PRESS RELEASE

For Immediate Release – December 29, 2000

Leisure Canada Inc. (LCI) announced today that Bradley Bardua will be resigning from his position as Chief Financial Officer of LCI at the end of the year. Peter MacLeod, President of LCI, stated “I wish to thank Brad Bardua for his exceptional service as Chief Financial Officer”. Mr. Bardua joined LCI in early 1999 and has been very helpful to the Company during a significant period of growth and development. Kathryn Labou C.A., who joined LCI in July 2000 as its Corporate Controller, has been working closely with Mr. Bardua to develop and implement accounting and control systems for use in general corporate administration and for use in LCI’s Cuban developments. Upon Mr. Bardua’s departure, Mrs. Labou will assume all of his day-to-day responsibilities.
